Thank you for great cooperation in 2022

NKJ wishes all friends, colleagues, networks and other people we have worked with during 2022 (and Santa) a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

We have worked hard the past year for a sustainable future, together with a lot of people in the Nordic countries. In our funded networks researchers and stakeholders have met and exchanged knowledge, and NKJ has worked with several strategic projects (find them in the menu on the NKJ website). We depend on and highly appreciate your cooperation with us, so thank you for everything in 2022!

We are looking forward to a new year and hope to continue the cooperation and fruitful contacts!

The Nordic Conference on Reindeer Husbandry was much appreciated

The topic of The Nordic Conference on Reindeer Husbandry 2022 was challenges to reindeer husbandry, in particular the impact of predators, as well as the consequences of a changing climate in Sweden, Finland and Norway.

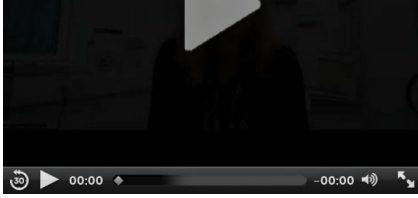

The first day of the conference focused on current status, policy and governance of predators, and the second day focused on issues connected to climate change.

Cooperation across the national borders is of great value for the researchers

Jette Feveile Young is the coordinator of the NKJ funded research network Cultured meat – Nordic take. She gives her view of why Nordic cooperation is valuable and how to take the research to the next level.
